A BILL

To award a Congressional Gold Medal, collectively, to the individuals who fought for or with the United States against the Armed Forces of Imperial Japan in the Pacific theater and became prisoners of war from December 8, 1941, to August 15, 1945.

1        Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4        This Act may be cited as the “Defenders of Bataan
5 and Corregidor Congressional Gold Medal Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7        Congress finds the following:

8            (1) Hours after the attacks on Pearl Harbor,
9        Hawaii Territory, on December 7, 1941, Imperial 10        Japanese forces launched coordinated attacks
11        throughout Asia, striking Malaya, Thailand, Singa-
12        pore, Shanghai, Hong Kong, the Philippines, and 13        the United States territories of Guam, Midway Is-14        land, Wake Island, and Howland Island.

15            (2) For the next 7 months, undermanned
16        United States forces in the Pacific fought with out-
17        dated weapons, expired ammunition, and without re-
18        inforcement or resupply to their besieged island
19        posts.

20            (3) On the first day of United States participa-21        tion in World War II, December 8, 1941, the “first 22        to fire” in the Philippines at the Imperial Japanese 23        were the New Mexico National Guardsmen from the 24        200th and 515th Coast Artillery (AA) regiments, the

1 successors to the famed “Rough Riders” of the 2 Spanish-American War, who had only recently ar-
3 rived in the Philippines where they were stationed at 4 Fort Stotsenburg north of Manila with the mission
5 of defending Clark Field.

6 (4) Filipino soldiers and civilians valiantly
7 fought alongside and as part of the United States
8 Armed Forces and were integral to their war efforts.

9 (5) By the end of December 1941, all United 10 States forces on Luzon Island in the Philippines
11 withdrew to the Bataan Peninsula of the island, 12 where, for the next 4 months, with neither air nor 13 sea defenses, an estimated 12,000 United States and 14 at least 63,000 Filipino troops and 20,000 Filipino
15 civilians endured siege conditions.

16 (6) On April 9, 1942, Major General Edward 17 P. King, Jr. surrendered the United States and Fili-18 pino forces on the Bataan Peninsula. The Imperial 19 Japanese Army forced thousands of troops and civil-20 ians to assemble at the port of Mariveles at the tip
21 of Bataan and other locations along the peninsula
22 for a 65-mile forced march. This forced trek came 23 to be known as the “Bataan Death March”.

24 (7) During the Bataan Death March, approxi-
25 mately 700 people of the United States and 6,000

1 to 10,000 Filipinos were killed. Survivors were sent
2 to Camp O'Donnell where 26,000 more Filipino pris-
3 oners died.

4 (8) On May 6, 1942, Lieutenant General Jona-
5 than Wainwright surrendered the fortress islands of 6 Corregidor (Fort Mills), Fort Drum, Fort Frank,
7 and Fort Hughes in Manila Bay. The complete sur-
8 render of the remaining United States and Filipino
9 forces in the Philippines occurred on June 9, 1942.

10 (9) Included in the surrenders in the Phil-
11 ippines were female nurses of the United States
12 Army and Navy and the Philippine Army and civil-13 ian volunteers who became the first large group of 14 United States women in combat and, counted with 15 the Army and Navy nurses surrendered on Guam in 16 December 1941, comprised the first group of United 17 States military women taken captive and imprisoned
18 by an enemy.

19 (10) Between January 1942 and August 1945,
20 thousands of prisoners of war from the United 21 States who had survived the surrenders throughout 22 the Pacific were shipped in unmarked freighters and 23 vessels.

24 (11) It is time to recognize the defenders of Ba-25 taan, Corregidor, and other places throughout the

1 Pacific who were ordinary men and women who 2 found uncommon courage in extraordinary cir-
3 cumstances.
