1ST SESSION

H. RES. 787

Expressing support for the designation of September 2025 as “Hawaiian History Month” to recognize the history, culture and contributions of Native Hawaiians and reaffirm the United States Federal trust responsibility to the Native Hawaiian community to support their well-being.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

OCTOBER 3, 2025

Ms. TOKUDA (for herself and Mr. CASE) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Natural Resources

RESOLUTION

Expressing support for the designation of September 2025 as “Hawaiian History Month” to recognize the history, culture and contributions of Native Hawaiians and reaffirm the United States Federal trust responsibility to the Native Hawaiian community to support their well-being.

Whereas Native Hawaiians are the indigenous people of Hawaii with a rich history and cultural legacy rooted in centuries of self-sufficiency, land stewardship, innovation, and community-building across the Hawaiian archipelago;

Whereas, in the late 19th century, Native Hawaiians were among the most literate people in the world, estimated to have a literacy rate of more than 90 percent, and established the first high school west of the Mississippi River;

Whereas pivotal 19th century Native Hawaiian historians and scholars, including Samuel Kamakau, Davida Malo, Kepelino Keauokalani, and John Papa 'Ī'ī, documented Hawaiian history and produced important literature on Native Hawaiian genealogies, practices, and stories that remains relevant today;

Whereas the Kingdom of Hawai'i was an internationally recognized sovereign nation until its unlawful overthrow by United States forces in 1893;

Whereas, in 1993, Congress enacted Public Law 103–150 to acknowledge the 100th anniversary of the illegal overthrow of the Kingdom of Hawai'i, and expressed regret for the role of the United States in the overthrow and affirmed the inherent sovereignty of the Native Hawaiian people;

Whereas, by 1919, the Native Hawaiian population had significantly declined since Western contact due to disease and loss of culture, language, land, and political leadership;

Whereas individual Native Hawaiians have led efforts to revitalize their culture, language, and traditions across generations, including—

- (1) David Kalākaua, the first elected king of the Kingdom of Hawai'i, who commissioned the construction of 'Iolani Palace as a symbol of Hawaiian innovation and sovereignty and championed Hawaiian traditional arts and culture;

- (2) Queen Lili'uokalani, the last sovereign monarch of the Kingdom of Hawai'i, who promoted Hawaiian sovereignty through constitutional reform and preserved Native Hawaiian culture through her prolific musical compositions, writings, and philanthropic efforts;

(3) Bernice Pauahi Bishop, a princess of the Kingdom of Hawai'i whose will instructed the establishment of an institution to support the education and cultural stewardship of Native Hawaiian students;

(4) George Helm, Jr., a musician and activist who, as a founding member of the Protect Kaho'olawe 'Ohana organization, protested the United States military bombing of Kaho'olawe Island and advocated for aloha 'āina, love for the land;

(5) Duke Kahanamoku, a swimming champion who won 3 gold medals and 2 silver medals over 3 Olympic games and whose passion for surfing led him to be globally recognized as the “father of modern surfing” and also remembered for his achievements as a lifeguard, sheriff, and ambassador of aloha;

(6) Edith Kanaka'ole, a revered kumu hula (hula teacher), composer, and educator who preserved Hawaiian traditions through chant, dance, and academic instruction, and whose legacy was honored with a United States mint quarter in 2023;

(7) Mary Kawena Pukui, co-author of the Hawaiian Dictionary and a leading scholar of Hawaiian language, customs, and oral traditions; and

(8) Isabella Kauakea Yau Yung Aiona Abbott, the first woman on the biological sciences faculty at Stanford University, who in 1997 was awarded the Gilbert Morgan Smith medal, the highest award in marine botany from the National Academy of Sciences;

Whereas Native Hawaiians have made profound contributions to the United States at all levels of the Federal Government and in the Armed Forces including—

(1) Prince Jonah Kūhiō Kalaniana'ole, elected as a delegate to the United States House of Representatives from the Territory of Hawai'i and the only royal-born member of Congress;

(2) Senator Daniel K. Akaka, elected to the United States House of Representatives for 7 consecutive terms until he was appointed to the United States Senate, becoming the first Native Hawaiian to serve as a United States Senator; and

(3) Private First Class Herbert Kailieha Pilila'au and Private First Class Anthony T. Kaho'ohanohano, Native Hawaiians who received the Medal of Honor;

Whereas Congress, over many decades, enacted hundreds of statutes to promote health, education, housing, and cultural preservation, recognizing and implementing the special political and trust relationship with the Native Hawaiian Community;

Whereas the State of Hawaii has enacted legislation formally recognizing September as Hawaiian History Month to honor the legacy of Queen Lili'uokalani and promote public awareness for Native Hawaiian history and culture;

Whereas, today, there are over 650,000 Native Hawaiians living across the globe, with the highest concentration living in Hawai'i, followed closely by California, Washington State, Nevada, Texas, and Oregon;

Whereas Federal law recognizes the continued importance of ancestral homelands for Native Hawaiians and sets aside such lands for them, should they choose to return; and

Whereas Hawaiian History Month provides an opportunity to educate all people of the United States about Native Hawaiian history, celebrate their enduring contributions to the United States, and promote reconciliation: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That the House of Representatives supports
2 the designation of “Hawaiian History Month”—

3 (1) to honor the history, culture, and contribu-
4 tions of Native Hawaiians to the State of Hawaii,
5 the United States, and the global community;

6 (2) to recognize the importance of Public Law
7 103–150 and the ongoing efforts to achieve rec-
8 onciliation, including through consultation;

9 (3) to commend the revitalization of Native Ha-
10 waiian language, culture, and traditions as essential
11 to the well-being and identity of Native Hawaiian 12 communities; and

13 (4) to encourage Federal agencies, educational
14 institutions, and civil society to observe Hawaiian
15 History Month with appropriate programs, cere-
16 monies, and educational activities.
